How are groups structured?

In Year 9 pupils are split into two populations – North and South – for the purposes of timetabling.

Within these populations, some subjects will be taught as tutor groups, some set by ability within these subjects, and others dependant on the combination of option choices made by each pupil.

In the subjects that are organised by ability, there will be opportunities for students to move between groups depending on their progress within lessons.

Optional subjects

Alongside the core curriculum, pupils will also choose three other subjects which they want to study in depth for the duration of Year 9.

This will allow pupils to personalize their timetable and allows those pupils who wish to do so, to choose Spanish as well as French.

Which subjects can I choose?

For their three choices, pupils must select:

- At least one Arts subject
- At least one Technology subject
- One other subject.
