

Preparation for going to college/sixth form in September 2021

Task	Approximate time taken
YOUR COLLEGE APPLICATION
Check your emails every day For important information from college and sixth forms that you have applied to. Complete any tasks requested of you asap and certainly by any deadlines set. If you put your school email address on your college application, you may want to consider changing your contact details with them to a personal email address that you will be able to access after leaving school.	10 minutes – daily
Attend induction days / transition events All colleges and sixth forms will run induction days and transition events for students who hold an offer with them. These generally happen in the summer term after you have left school. These are important opportunities for you to find out more about where you will be studying, have taster lessons, meet pastoral staff and much more. Attend transition events for all colleges that you have offers with, as you could end up studying at any of these in September. These events may be online/virtual this year. Colleges/sixth forms will communicate with your directly about these events.	Dependent on the provider
Complete any summer bridging tasks / projects over the summer break Many colleges and sixth forms will set summer bridging projects for you to complete in the subjects you have chosen to study next year. This is an important part of the transition process and these projects should be completed to the best of your ability. An example of these projects can be found below.	Summer project
